Bus will depart promptly at 8:30 a.m. from Evergreen Museum & Library, 4545 N. Charles Street, Baltimore, MD 21210. Return to Evergreen by 5:30 p.m. (traffic may impact return time). Please wear comfortable shoes. Some walking will be required.

GUIDED TOUR OF MARYLAND STATE HOUSE The day’s first stop will be the Maryland State House, which dates to 1772 and is the oldest U.S. state capitol in continuous legislative use. It is also the site where George Washington resigned his commission as commander in chief of the Continental Army and where Charles Carroll of Carrollton served as president of the state Senate and helped to develop Maryland’s first constitution and Declaration of Rights. Homewood’s assistant curator, Michelle Fitzgerald, will provide insight into the Old Senate Chamber, which underwent an $8 million restoration between 2007 and 2015.

LUNCH AT TREATY OF PARIS Just one block from the State House is this 18th-century restaurant. Enjoy a buffet of Chesapeake favorites, including cream of crab soup, hush puppies, rockfish with crab imperial, buttermilk fried chicken, Maryland corn on the cob, peach and berry cobbler, and much more. Vegetarian options also available.

GUIDED TOUR OF CHARLES CARROLL HOUSE & GARDEN Though the surrounding site has been expanded and altered over the last 350 years, Charles Carroll of Carrollton’s four-story brick house overlooking Spa Creek is one of the very few intact 18th-century historic sites in the Annapolis Historical District. It is here that Charles Carroll of Carrollton was born in 1737 and where he was married in 1768. It is likely that William Ross also was born here, and Charles Carroll of Homewood is buried in the garden.

TOUR & TEA AT BROWN’S TAVERN, HISTORIC LONDON TOWN & GARDENS The last stop of the day will be this circa-1760 historic house and tavern at the center of Historic London Town & Gardens, the site of a once-bustling Colonial tobacco port. The group will enjoy tea with London Town staff and docents in the historic tavern before boarding the bus for the return trip to Baltimore.
