

EXHIBITIONS AT EVERGREEN

ZELDA FITZGERALD

CHOREOGRAPHY in COLOR

EVERGREEN MUSEUM & LIBRARY, THE JOHNS HOPKINS UNIVERSITY

ZELDA FITZGERALD: CHOREOGRAPHY in COLOR

OCTOBER 19, 2011 – JANUARY 29, 2012

The Johns Hopkins University's collection of Zelda Fitzgerald drawings are highlighted in this student-curated exhibition exploring the life and work of the controversial Jazz Age icon.

RELATED EVENT

Opening Night Celebration

Tuesday, October 18, 6pm / Free

Evergreen Members are always FREE.

For membership and exhibition information, visit museums.jhu.edu or call 410.516.0341.

The exhibition and accompanying publication are made possible by the Woodrow Wilson Undergraduate Research Fellowship Program, Arts Innovation Grant Program, and Museums & Society Program at The Johns Hopkins University. Additional support comes from the Evergreen House Foundation, and the Maryland State Arts Council.

Cover and Right: Daylilies (detail), c. 1934, and Female Figure with Flowers (detail), c. 1932–1934. Gouache and pencil on paper: Department of English, The Johns Hopkins University; Gift of Mr. and Mrs. Sewell Weech

JOHNS HOPKINS
UNIVERSITY